

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

ALREADY PEOPLE ARE TALKING ABOUT CANDIDATES.

The Chronicle Gives the Gist of Some of the Gossip about Politics That is Heard These Days.

The CHRONICLE will try to keep its readers posted upon the political chat that finds its way in the State newspapers, and it will thank its friends to send any short items of political news that is of interest.

The Sanford Express says that his Moore county friends are talking of running Capt. Melver for judge in the seventh district.

The Wilson Mirror learns that Col. J. A. Sugg, of Pitt, and John E. Woodard, Esq., of Wilson, will be candidates for Solicitor in the Third District.

Our townsman Mr. Chas. B. Aycock, a lawyer of considerable ability and a graceful orator, is a candidate for Congress from this (third) district. Mr. Aycock being very popular with the citizens of this and adjoining counties, we have every reason to believe that his nomination is an assured fact. — Goldsboro Headlight.

It is evident from public opinion expressed in this paper that Capt. Alexander is the choice of the people in this district for Congress. But being the choice of a majority of the citizens and getting the nomination are very different things, and unless his friends take an active part in primary, county and district convention he may be defeated. — Mecklenburg Times.

It is rumored that Mr. E. A. Moyer, Superior Court Clerk of Pitt county, will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the First District. The Advance has authority for the statement that he will not enter the race, nor permit his friends to use his name. While it is well known that he is a good man and would make an excellent representative his wishes must be respected. — Wilson Advance.

The Elizabeth City Falcon says: "R. W. Winborne, of Hertford county, attended court this week on professional business. It is generally known that Mr. Winborne will be a candidate for nomination for Solicitor of this district." The Economist says: "R. W. Winborne, of Hertford county, was in to see us last week. He thinks we can see the rising star in the east to be our guide star in wisdom and courage in the future of our beloved Albemarle."

So far as we have heard from all parts of the district, it is the unanimous desire of the white people of all professions and callings that F. M. Simmons, Esq., be nominated for Congress. He is a splendid campaigner and made us a most faithful representative. Although the district was largely Republican he only missed being elected in the last campaign by a few hundred votes, and it is supposed that enough negroes have left the district to give us a good majority hereafter. — Warrenton Gazette.

A conspicuous figure on the streets of Greenville is ex-Governor Jarvis. He is still hale and vigorous and looks well preserved. Some of his ardent admirers desire him to enter the Congressional race in the First District. He will not be a candidate, the Advance is informed, and will stand with "hands off." He is now a member of the Town Council, and, as in the past, is doing his duty fearlessly, serving the people in what ever sphere they see fit to place him. — Wilson Advance.

Brower now wants to be the Republican candidate for Governor of North Carolina at the next election. He is a cheery fellow. We suppose he has come to the conclusion that the Democrats will carry the district next fall and is looking around for something else. He is right. With such a man as Capt. A. H. A. Williams, the favorite with all classes and who has the interest of our farmers nearest his heart, as our standard-bearer, he would leave Brower at home by a handsome majority. — Oxford Public Ledger.

We are especially pleased to hear of no opposition to the retention of our honored countyman, Hon. T. B. Womack, as the judge of this (fifth) district, who was appointed by Gov. Fowle to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge Gilmer. As he has not held, and will not before the election hold, any court in this district, our people will not have an opportunity of seeing for themselves the manner in which he discharges the duties of his high office. They must therefore take the testimony of those who have attended the courts held by him, and they all speak of him in the most complimentary terms. — Chatham Record.

The Monroe Enquirer & Express says that "the people of Union county generally, and a large number throughout the District, would be glad to see Mr. J. J. Vann, of Monroe, secure the nomination for the office of Judge in the 11th District, of which Judge Shipp is the present incumbent. Mr. Vann has been practicing law continuously for about fifteen years, and while he is comparatively a young man, he possesses in an eminent degree the qualifications necessary to fit him to wear the ermine. He is a thorough judge of law, is a tireless worker, is exact and systematic in his modes of doing business, his tastes are simple and his habits of the most exemplary character."

For Judge Phillips's place there will be a lively contest. He will probably be a candidate for re-election. Capt. Peebles, of Northampton, Mr. Montgomery, of Warren, and probably, Mr. Henry Bryan, of Newbern, are in the race. The judicial district is composed of the counties of Warren, Halifax, Northampton, Bertie, Edgecombe and Craven. Since the war Northampton has been the judgeship in the person of Judge David Barnes, also the district attorneyship in the person of Capt. Peebles, and for the last quarter of a century the United States Senatorship in the person of Gen. Ransom. Edgecombe has had two Superior court judges, Judge Howard, and the present incumbent, Judge Phillips. Halifax had the congressman in Capt. Kitchen, Mr. Simmons, and will get it again. Bertie, we think, has also been honored, but we do not now remember. Warren alone has had nothing and demanded nothing, but this county has heretofore been content to vote a straight ticket for her friends from the other counties; and she has voted fewer white republicans than any county in the district or State. — Warrenton Gazette.

The friends of Messrs. D. H. McLean and E. W. Pou, Jr., are urging their names for solicitor of this district. We are personally acquainted with both of these gentlemen, but do not know whether either of them wish the place or not, but we know that either of them would fill the position with honor to themselves and credit to those that would put them there, as both are in the prime and vigor of manhood, are lawyers of great ability, and gentlemen of the highest type; but if we were called upon to make a choice, of course our first choice would be our own brilliant countyman, D. H. McLean. Mr. McLean's friends are strong for him, both for Congress and Solicitor. We would be pleased to see him elected to either place, and it would only be a just recognition of past services and a virtuous reward of merit. — Harnett Courier.

Dr. W. C. Staples, one of Raleigh's oldest and most stalwart Democrats, and a well-informed man on politics and politicians, says that Col. David Settle can arouse more enthusiasm than any man who can be given the Democratic nomination for Congress, and that he will make a lively canvass. Mr. Jim Waddill, another level headed man and a thorough independent, says that the Col. would have a strong influence in Congress; that his pleasant manners, backed by a noble heart, would win him friends from all sections and from both parties; that it is that kind of work which secures legislation. The boom of Rockingham's distinguished aspirant is gaining ground. She has the David who can slay the Republican Goliath, and all she asks is an opportunity to prove her claims. The above is a pointer for those who desire to see the old fifth wheel back into the Democratic column. — Radsville Weekly.

Mr. Brower's Good Fortune.
The National Democrat, published in Washington, says that John M. Brower, member of Congress from the fifth district, has the gubernatorial bee in his bonnet. It is lucky for him that it is not in the seat of his pants. — Wilmington Star.

Was the Purpose to Blow it up?
(Roxboro Courier.)

Rev. Taylor Stanfield, colored, while making some repairs on the Colored Baptist Church at this place last Friday evening, found two cans of Judson powder under the floor, placed in such a position that by trading on a certain portion of the floor, it would cause it to explode. It is said that it was enough to completely wreck the house, and had it not been discovered when it was, it possibly might have caused loss of life.

Moore County Politics.
Moore county has no candidate that we have heard of for Congress. Friends have mentioned the names of J. C. Black and W. J. Adams for the State Senate. The farmers, it is said, will push Capt. Geo. Wilcox to the front for the next House. He is President of the County Alliance and is more popular than ever with the people. It is said that the county officers from Clerk McDonald down will be renominated without opposition. Taken all round they are the most popular officials the county has had in years and they will have practically no opposition at the polls. — Sanford Express.

For Congress in the Seventh District.
It has been supposed by some that G. S. Bradshaw, Esq., of Randolph, would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this district this year. We have the authority of Mr. Bradshaw himself for saying that he will not be. In concluding a business letter to the editor of this paper he says that he is "not a candidate in any sense for anything" outside of his own county — from which we infer that he will stand again for the clerkship of the Superior Court of Randolph, a position which he has filled for many years with great acceptability. We have also a business letter from Col. Fred. H. Stith, of Davidson, but in it he makes no reference to the recent paragraph in the Landmark attributing to him congressional ambition, either to deny or affirm. It is rumored that Dr. D. Reid Parker, of Randolph, would not be averse to making the race, but as a matter of fact we think that Mr. Henderson and Mr. Leazar are the only avowed candidates. — Statesville Landmark.

For Congress in the Second District.
(Farrboro Southerner.)

The Southerner would ask the voters of this Congressional district. Why not send Col. Elias Carr to Congress?

Col. Carr is as well equipped for an important office like this as the best in the land; and besides, he belongs to and is at the head of that class which is suffering from and for legislation. He is aware of the needs of the farmer, while his acquaintance with the well settled principles of government and political economy enables him to diagnose the case and prescribe the remedy.

These reasons are sufficient, but the Southerner has one other: it would make the representative branch of the federal legislature as a stepping stone to a higher and more important office, Governor of the State. In the former he will gain valuable experience which will stand him in good stead when he becomes the Chief Executive of his State. Besides, Congress will open to him possibilities of even greater moment than gubernatorial promotion.

So with one accord, when the conventions meet this summer, let us declare for Elias Carr for Congress, and in November, elect him.

Why Capt. Alexander Declined the Nomination for Lt. Governor.
(Mecklenburg Times.)

A week or so ago an article appeared in the Maxton Union criticising Capt. S. B. Alexander for refusing to accept the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor. We desire to say in reply, that Capt. Alexander gave notice through the press before the convention met that he would not accept the second place on the gubernatorial ticket. Moreover, he was at the time holding a position in the Alliance which paid a higher salary than that of the Lieutenant-Governorship. Had he accepted the nomination offered him he would, in addition to giving up a better paying office, have had to expend for campaign purposes more than he could have got out of the office. Capt. Alexander did what every sensible man would have done under the circumstances. Besides his mouth was not open as a receptacle for whatever crumbs might happen to fall from the Democratic table.
